

CIBC Caribbean Launches WFTC 2026 with $83,000 Donation

Nassau, Bahamas, 5 May 2026 – The steps taken during Walk for the Cure 2025 have added up to a significant leap forward in the fight against cancer.

CIBC Caribbean recently presented $83,000 to support the work of Sister Sister Breast Cancer Support Groups of New Providence and Grand Bahama, Cancer Society of The Bahamas, the Cancer Societies of Abaco, Eleuthera, and Grand Bahama, Cancer Association of Grand Bahama and GD Sharing and Caring.

The funds raised represent a country-wide effort. Participants, volunteers, and corporate partners came together across New Providence, Abaco, Eleuthera, and Grand Bahama, islands where CIBC Caribbean has branches.

Country Head for CIBC Caribbean in The Bahamas, Terrance Gibson, said, “Walk for the Cure has grown into more than an event. It reflects people choosing to show up for one another. The $83,000 donated strengthens the work of organizations on the front lines of cancer care and ensures that more individuals and families receive the support they need.”

GD Caring and Sharing Cancer Support Group Treasurer, Helen Longley, said, “Demand for cancer care services continues to grow and contributions like CIBC Caribbean’s allow us to respond in a meaningful way. This funding helps us extend care, provide guidance, and support families through some of their most difficult moments.”

The presentation also marked the official launch of Walk for the Cure 2026 scheduled for October 3rd.

Gibson added, “Walk for the Cure continues to raise awareness, mobilize communities, and generate funding to support cancer care across the country. Participation has grown each year and we aim to build on that momentum in 2026.”
